Monday’s General Sessions track will put a focus on live production workflows, including a special focus on REMI/at-home production workflows. What new technologies are changing the nature of live production? Attend this informative afternoon and learn about the latest trends affecting the industry.

Time: 1:30 – 4:15 p.m.

1:30 – 2:15 p.m. Remote Production Business and Technology Trends
The relationship between remote production service providers and clients continues to be a dance between profitability, capability, flexibility, and trust. Learn more about the current state of the business, challenges as new technologies change the nature of sports production, and much more.

2:15 – 2:30 p.m. Case Study

2:30 – 2:45 p.m. Networking Break

2:45 – 3:10 p.m. Inside Look at REMI and At-Home Workflows, Part One:
NASCAR@Home Productions
NASCAR Productions this year is producing all of its IMSA races from the NASCAR Productions facility, located in Charlotte, NC. The team is relying on production truck designed to meet the needs of a REMI production and has spent the past season learning how to produce an event remotely, the pros and cons of the new workflow, and figuring out future opportunities.

3:10 – 3:30 p.m. Securing the Compound: The Challenge of Cybersecurity and Live Sports TV
A panel of rightsholders, third-party vendors, and equipment manufacturers will discuss the status of cybersecurity in the live sports compound. How can everyone work together with the common goal of securing productions both in the stadium and back in the studio? This session will provide an update on the development of an ongoing series of Recommendations and Best Practices that outline suggested industry-approved controls for use in the sports-production industry. This panel will be followed on Tuesday by an open, industry roundtable discussion.

3:30 – 3:45 p.m. Case Study

3:45 – 4:15 p.m. Closing Keynote
8:30 – 9:15 a.m. Gambling and What It Means to the Sports Media Business
Gambling. It’s on everybody’s (and every state’s) mind as a means to not only drive revenue growth but also ratings as viewers will have more reasons to tune in. How are broadcasters approaching gambling from a programming standpoint? Do regional sports networks have an advantage compared to national networks? And how quickly will the legalized betting landscape evolve?

9:15 – 9:45 a.m. Keynote Conversation: Peter Hutton, Facebook, Director, Global Sports Partnerships
Peter Hutton is no stranger to the sports media landscape, as he was CEO of Eurosport from 2015-18 and, prior to that, co-CEO of MP & Silva. Now he is at Facebook and, most importantly, at the center of the social media platform’s sports-related developments. Learn how Facebook is looking to unlock sponsorship opportunities; drive ticket, merchandise, and subscription sales; as well as its efforts around live rights and much more.

9:45 – 10:45 a.m. Networking Break
Visit the Technology Showcases!

10:45 – 11:15 a.m. Esports 2020: Where Is the Industry Headed?
The esports market continues to explode as traditional media companies, leagues, and even sports franchises look to become part of the ecosystem. What are some of the key trends to expect in 2020? How will esports continue to be on the ascent and what does that mean to the more traditional sports production landscape?

11:15 a.m. Case Study

11:30 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. Keynote Conversation: Joe Markowski, DAZN, EVP, North America
DAZN continues to surprise the sports content and distribution world, whether with new rights deals, exclusive studio programming every bit as robust as anything in the industry, or a carriage deal with Comcast. And its international perspective gives it a solid leg up when it comes to understanding the changing landscape of OTT and broadcast sports. Joe Markowski, DAZN, EVP North America, shares his thoughts on DAZN’s strategy, its plans for the future, and why the entire industry needs to think differently when it comes to meeting the needs of sports fans.

12:00 – 1:00 p.m. Networking Lunch

The IP Production and Engineering Workshop is designed to provide a comprehensive overview of the state of the developments related to IP routing and virtual workflows.

10:00 – 10:45 p.m. War Stories from the IP Frontlines
Every organization that has made the move from SDI to IP has some battle scars that are still healing. We'll take a close-up look at a few real-world scenarios, how the problems were solved, and what steps can be taken to avoid a similar fate.

10:45 – 11:00 a.m. Case Study

11:00 – 11:30 a.m. IP Routing: What to Expect
Learn some of the basics and differences when moving to an IP router. What are some key considerations? What are some of the most important changes you and your team need to undergo in order to get things done in the IP domain?

11:30 – 11:45 a.m. Case Study

11:45 a.m. – 12:30 p.m. The Virtualized Future: Dream or Nightmare?
It's getting closer every day: the chance to leave behind dedicated hardware boxes and instead replace them with applications that reside in a cloud environment. But how close is the virtualized future, what will it mean to the entire industry, and is it really possible for an industry so entrenched?

The Sports Graphics and AR Workshop is designed for SVG members and sponsors looking to learn about the latest developments in graphics, augmented reality, and data visualization technologies for live sports broadcasts. This afternoon workshop will feature sports-graphics leaders from major broadcasters, leagues, teams, and vendors addressing hot-button topics like augmented reality and virtual studios, graphics for sports-betting and predictive gaming telecasts, player tracking and and data integration, and much more.

Time: 1:30 – 4:15 p.m.

1:30 – 2:15 p.m. The Rise of AR on the Field: Changing the Game for Game Coverage
Although augmented reality is nothing new to sports production, dating back to the 1st and Ten line more than two decades ago, AR has taken a giant leap in recent years and is dramatically changing the way stories are told on the field. AR and virtual graphics are nearly ubiquitous on live telecasts of major sporting events ranging from primetime NFL football to major golf tournaments and beyond. Learn how AR is truly adding another dimension to live sports coverage.

2:15 – 2:30 p.m. Case Study

2:30 – 2:45 p.m. Networking Break

2:45 – 3:15 p.m. The Sports Betting Factor: Graphics and Data Integration
As the wave of legalized sports-betting begins to accelerate to more states, many broadcasters are looking to integrate betting into their live-game coverage and launch betting-focused studio shows. Graphics and data integration are sure to play a vital role in the proliferation of in-game-wagering and predictive-gaming telecasts in the near future. Hear from broadcasters, graphics vendors, and data providers on how this new frontier will impact your production workflows.

3:15 – 3:30 p.m. Case Study

3:30 – 4:15 p.m. Virtual Studios and AR: Expanding Beyond the Physical World at Home
Augmented reality and virtual studios have allowed sports-content creators to rethink what is possible inside the studio. Fueled by the rise of high-powered video-game engines, broadcasters can now create ultra-realistic and -engaging studio environments in real-time to serve as the home of their sports programming. Leaders from broadcasters and vendors address the latest AR and virtual technologies revolutionizing the way studio shows are produced.

NEW TO THIS YEAR’S SVG SUMMIT!

Tuesday, December 17
Time: 10:45 a.m. – 12:15 p.m.

The SVG Content Security Workgroup was created to strengthen the processes by which content is protected throughout the lifecycle of production, distribution, and archiving —based on the input of SVG’s membership, including broadcasters, rights owners, and production service providers.

10:45 a.m. – 12:15 p.m. SECURING THE COMPOUND: Roundtable Discussion

Rightsholders, third-party vendors, and equipment manufacturers are invited to participate in an open discussion about how to advance and improve cybersecurity in the live sports compound. How can everyone work together with the common goal of securing productions both in the stadium and back in the studio? How have other industry sectors worked together for the common good? How can the industry advance adoption of the SVG Recommendations and Best Practices? Technology providers are welcome to attend and update the group on the status of your company’s cyber preparedness?

Agenda subject to change

CONTENT SECURITY WORKGROUP

The Work Group’s recent efforts have focused on two fronts:

1. Working with SVG members to introduce its Best Practices to their production teams
2. Discussing technology network security efforts with key equipment partners

The SVG Content Security Best Practices documents include:

• Scanning Removable Drives Version 1.0
• Wireless Networks Version 1.0

To review the Best Practices, visit: https://www.sportsvideo.org/security
